SECTION 1: ABOUT UUM

GENERAL INFORMATION

UNIVERSITI UTARA MALAYSIA

When rumours started to float concerning the establishment of a university and especially after Tun Daim Zainuddin announced that a university would be established in the state of Kedah, public response was very encouraging indeed. As of July 1983, there were only five public universities in Malaysia and they were certainly not enough to cater for the educational needs of the country. For that reason, the then Prime Minister, Yang Amat Berhormat Dato' Seri Dr. Mahathir Mohamad, directed the Ministry of Education to set up a task force to conduct a study on "The Sixth University Project" and a comprehensive working Paper was prepared on 16 August 1983. Apart from helping meet the educational needs of the nation, Dr. Mahathir hoped that the establishment of a university in the Sintok Valley, which had been infamous as the former lair of communist insurgents, would help transform the "black area" into a dynamic centre of growth. He saw the potential for the valley to be developed into a seat of learning which would, in turn, catalyse the economic growth of the valley and help build a future of excellence for the nation. Thus, in pursuit of an ideal, the establishment of Universiti Utara Malaysia (UUM) began.

On 1 October 1983, a task force for "The Sixth University Project" headed by Mr. Abdul Hamid Ayob, the Kedah State Education Director at that time, was set-up to supervise and handle the project with four other officials from the Ministry of Education. The headquarters for this special task force was based in Kuala Lumpur and they operated in Alor Setar as well as in Kuala Lumpur.

Yang Berhormat Dato' Khalil Yaakub, the Deputy Minister of Education at that time, as the Chairman of the Development Committee, was entrusted with the task of negotiating with the Kedah State government to identify a location for the provisional campus of the new university. On 16 October 1983, the Cabinet approved the project and assigned the Kedah State Development Corporation (PKNK) to undertake the construction of the campus.

Finally, on 19 October 1983, the Cabinet gave its official approval for "The Sixth University Project" in Kedah. On 11 January 1984, His Majesty, Seri Paduka Baginda Yang di-Pertuan Agong, graciously signed the order for the establishment of Universiti Utara Malaysia (1984 Incorporation Statutory Order) and also the order for Universiti Utara Malaysia (1984 Campus or Campus Order). A few months later, on 15 February 1984, a pro-tem office for the sixth university was set-up at the Kubang Pasu UMNO Building in Jitra.

UUM officially became the sixth university of the country on 16 February 1984 and it was the only university given the mandate to focus on the field of management. Prof. Tan Sri Dato' Dr. Awang Had Salleh, a renowned academic of high calibre and a literary figure, was given the honour of being the first Vice-Chancellor of the sixth public university. On 7 April 1984, His Majesty, Tuanku Abdul Halim Mu'adzam Shah Ibni Almarhum Sultan Badlishah, the Sultan of Kedah was appointed as the Chancellor of UUM.

UUM began operations at the Kubang Pasu UMNO Building in Jitra, Kedah. It was in this building that Tan Sri Awang Had Salleh devised his initial administration plan. Four months later, in June 1984, the UUM office was relocated to the Darul Aman campus, Jitra, to welcome the first batch of students in July 1984.

The provisional UUM campus was built on an area extending 62 acres, in the Darul Aman town, situated 18 kilometers to the north of Alor Setar and approximately 5 kilometers from Jitra. By the time the move to the Darul Aman campus was underway, planning for the construction of the permanent UUM campus had already begun. An area of 1,061 hectares in the Kubang Pasu District, about 28 kilometers to the north of the provisional campus, in an area called Sintok, was identified for the purpose.

When the Sintok valley was gazetted as a "white area", i.e. free from communist activities, in December 1988, the construction of the permanent UUM campus, referred to as the Sintok campus, commenced. The Prime Minister gave a directive that the construction was to be completed in 18 months, which meant that the construction was to be completed by July 1990 when the new academic session was to begin. After exactly 18 months, Dr. Mahathir himself was on-site at the Sintok campus to monitor the progress of the construction of the RM580 million-campus. Due to some unavoidable circumstances such as the problem of getting enough construction workers, UUM was only able to commence operations in the Sintok campus two months later, on 15 September 1990, with the registration of new students for the 1990/91 academic session and the return of senior students a week after that.

The Sintok campus, watered by the Sintok River and the Badak River, is a former tin mining area. It is surrounded by beautiful lush tropical forests and undulating hills. The campus is situated 48 km to the north of Alor Setar and 10 km to the east of Changlun, a small town situated close to the Malaysia-Thai border, along the Malaysian North-South Highway.

The Sintok campus was officially opened on 17 February 2004 by the Royal Chancellor, His Royal Highness Sultan Abdul Halim Mu'adzam Shah. The main buildings of the campus are the Academic Colleges, the Sultanah Bahiyah Library, the Chancellery, the Sultan Badlishah Mosque, the Mu'adzam Shah Hall, the Tan Sri Othman Hall, the Sports Complex, the Varsity Mall, the Budi Siswa building, and the Convention Complex.

As the campus is situated far from the madding crowd, UUM has ensured that its students receive adequate accommodation. At present, UUM has 15 Student Residential Halls (SRH), which, all together, house 20,000 students. The SRHs are Maybank, Muamalat, TNB, Yayasan Al-Bukhari, Bank Rakyat, TM, Bank Islam, MISC, SME Bank, BSN, MAS, Sime Darby, Proton, Tradewinds and Petronas.

Apart from these, UUM also has comfortable accommodation available at the University Inn and the SRHs which can be rented during semester break. In addition, the EDC-UUM, which is located near the main entrance of the campus, offers comfortable accommodation for visitors. Mindful of the welfare and need for accommodation among its personnel, the University has built about 600 housing units of various types for a sizeable portion of its workforce.

An area encompassing 107 hectares of forest reserve land at UUM has been developed into various facilities to attract tourists to the northern region. Among these facilities are a picnic area, an 18 holes' golf course, a go-kart circuit, a shooting and archery range and a deer park. UUM declares its campus as an open campus. The public and tourists are welcome to visit and utilise the available facilities on campus.

In January 2008, a restructuring of the university academic system was undertaken to increase the number of postgraduate students and to hoist the UUM flag in the international academic arena. In this restructuring exercise, 16 schools and one National Golf Academy were merged and streamed into three main Academic Colleges, namely UUM COB (UUM College of Business), UUM CAS (UUM College of Arts and Sciences), UUM COLGIS (UUM College of Law, Government and International Studies). UUM also have one branch situated in Kuala Lumpur namely UUM KL Campus.

Ever since its establishment 41 years ago, UUM has continued to add feathers to its cap through attaining numerous outstanding awards. Among them are the autonomous status, Top Business School, Islamic Finance Awards (GIFA), ASEAN-QA, SETARA Tier 5 and other national and international recognitions. The development that the community of the Sintok Valley now enjoys derives from the establishment of UUM. This would not have been possible if not for the vision of the former Prime Minister, Tun Dr. Mahathir Mohamad, which transformed a remote area in the northern reaches of the nation and placed it on the world map. Furthermore, UUM also adds significant impetus to the educational development of Malaysia by producing much needed human capital for the nation, especially in the field of management.

Even though UUM has clocked 40 years in the field of education, it has a long way to go yet to achieve the many more goals it has set for itself. Judging by the degree of commitment and cooperation that every member of the UUM community has shown thus far, it is just a matter of time before UUM is unequivocally acknowledged the world over as an "Eminent Management University".

THE UNIVERSITY OBJECTIVES

Universiti Utara Malaysia was established to primarily develop and promote management education in the country. Its academic programmes are especially geared towards providing a broad spectrum of academic knowledge and intellectual skills in the areas of management, accounting, economics, public management, human resource management, entrepreneurship, finance and banking, history, Islamic studies, law, marketing, operation and technology management, political science, applied linguistics, communication, nationhood studies, computing, contemporary Malay language studies, creative industry management and performing arts, social studies, multimedia studies, education, decision science, international business, international relations, psychology, sociology, strategic studies, development management, tourism, hospitality and event, mathematics, statistics, and counselling.

Universiti Utara Malaysia also acts as a catalyst for socio-economic development in the northern region of Peninsular Malaysia. It is envisaged that the University's excellent infrastructure, state-of-the-art facilities, and pool of international human resources will provide the much needed impetus to develop and sustain most, if not all, socio-economic activities in the region.

In addition to its core business of providing quality teaching, conducting extensive research, and promoting a culture of scholarly publications, the University will contribute to the social, economic, and intellectual development of communities beyond the campus. The University has a crucial role to play when engaging the surrounding local communities in community-based projects, and in developing or strengthening community-university partnerships through collaboration with other government agencies and the private sector.

The University's objectives are embodied in the following three major thrusts:
- To be the centre of excellence in the field of management.
- To be the leading referral centre for all aspects of management scholarship and practice.
- To be the premier resource centre in the field of management.

VISION

To be an Eminent Management University.

MISSION

We educate leaders with holistic characteristics to serve the global community.

CLIENT CHARTER

Towards realising the University's vision to be a Management University of world-class standing, and in line with its motto "SCHOLARSHIP, VIRTUE, SERVICE", and with God Almighty's blessing, we hereby pledge with complete resolve and commitment, to honour our clients' rights as follows:

To the Students
To provide education, facilities, and the best management system based on established standards.

To the Staff
To provide students who are capable.
To provide the best facilities to aid work procedures; and
To give appropriate incentives and opportunities, with equality, to expand knowledge for staff development and progress.

To the Nation
To provide potential human resources to meet the nation's needs.
To provide training, research, and consultancy services to promote the growth and development of knowledge.

THE UNIVERSITY PHILOSOPHY

Cognizant of the fact that God will not change the destiny of a people until the people themselves endeavour to change it;

Appreciating that Malaysia has been blessed with a bounty of wealth in terms of both human and natural resources;

Realizing that both these resources must be under a stewardship which strives to do its best to manage these resources as effectively as possible; that the key to success is planning, management, monitoring, re-evaluation, and adherence to knowledge, science and technology;

Convinced that humankind cannot subsist merely on material progress without humanitarian qualities, civility, and conviction of faith; that natural resources cannot be allowed to be exploited to the extent of threatening human civilisation itself;

Universiti Utara Malaysia dedicates itself to the goal of nurturing graduates who have the ability and leadership qualities of the highest degree in planning and managing human and natural resources scientifically and creatively for the prosperity and peace of the people, harmony of the nation, and peace throughout the world.

The University resolves to foster excellence in scholarship, research, publication, and service to society especially in its efforts to develop, organise and manage human and natural resources efficiently.

Over and above this, the University aspires to nurture well-rounded graduates with scholastic, social, and humanistic qualities, individuals who are well balanced in their make-up, always guided by sublime and noble values.

Towards achieving the above, the University and its community of students and staff will embrace wholeheartedly the values embodied in its motto: SCHOLARSHIP, VIRTUE, SERVICE.

THE UNIVERSITY EDUCATIONAL GOAL

1. To manifest knowledge and managerial skills in their professional discipline with glocal mindset.

2. To relate theory to practice within and across disciplines by employing various means and modalities, harnessing the power of data and emerging technologies.

3. To integrate social entrepreneurial skills and mindset, capable of articulating thoughts and ideas clearly and effectively.

4. To display leadership qualities while being respectful and mindful of the ripple effects of their actions on individual, communities and the global landscape.

5. To demonstrate well-rounded individuals who embody integrity in both their personal and professional growth, consistently guided by noble values.

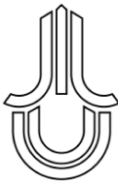

UNIVERSITY LOGO AND DEFINITION

The University's logo resembles a shield shaped like the nib of a pen. Within the shield, there are curved and vertical lines, and right in the centre there are six oval shapes that represent, among others, six grains of rice. The background colour of the shield is dark blue while the vertical and curved lines are white. If the logo is on a flag, the background colour surrounding the shield should be light blue.

INTERPRETATION

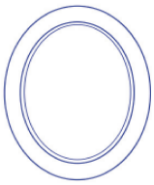

First: The shield which is shaped like the nib of a pen symbolises UUM as an institution of education and knowledge. The nib of the pen also symbolises the proactive nature of knowledge. The University does not only formulate knowledge, but also disseminates knowledge through teaching, research, consultation, and publication.

Second: The white lines represent the initial letters of the University's name. The U-shaped line at the bottom stands for "University", while the second curved line, the smaller "U", stands for "Utara". On top of these curved lines, there are two curved lines and a vertical line in between shaped like an "M", which stands for "Malaysia". All together, the lines represent the University's acronym – UUM.

Third: Inside the University's logo, the University's motto "ILMU BUDI BAKTI" is inscribed. The two curved lines at the bottom of the shield also symbolise sheets of Paper which carry the meaning of "ILMU" or scholarship. The six yellow ovals in the centre of the shield represent "BUDI" or virtue as reflected in the Malay proverb - Ikut resmi padi, semakin berisi semakin tunduk (As the grains of rice on a stalk of paddy mature, become heavier, and tilt the stalk downwards, making it bow, so should those who increase their knowledge, evince humility). The three lines at the top of the shield symbolise "BAKTI" or services rendered whether individually or collectively to one's faith, society and nation.

Fourth: The three oval lines surrounding the shield symbolise universal moral values which guide members of the campus community.

Fifth: The yellow colour within the oval lines and around the shield represents the campus community's loyalty to the King and nation.

Sixth: The white colour inside the logo, surrounding the shield, symbolises a clean, efficient, and trustworthy University management.

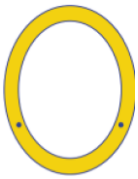

Seventh: The blue colour represents solidarity among the members of the campus community.

Eighth: The white colour inside the five lines symbolises the five Pillars of Islam.

Ninth: Besides representing “BUDI”, the six yellow ovals in the centre of the shield also symbolise the six Principles of Faith.

Tenth: Finally, the two blue dots symbolise the University’s excellence and uniqueness as a management university.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

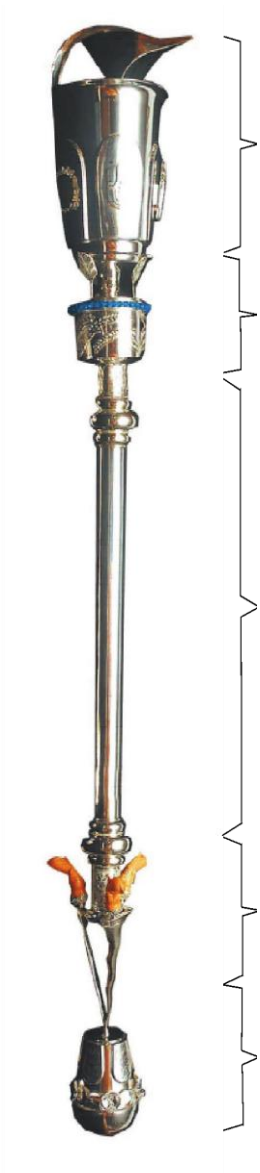

The University's Mace was handed over by His Royal Highness the King of Malaysia to the University through the Minister of Education at the Bukit Serene Palace, Johor Bahru, on 14 July 1988.

Concept

The simple design symbolises the agility and dynamism in the implementation of Universiti Utara Malaysia activities.

Rationale

The Universiti Utara Malaysia's mace comprises five parts.

The first part has five smooth surfaces symbolising Islam and Rukun Negara, and is shaped like a torch that is perpetually aflame, thus, symbolising life. The five smooth surfaces are inscribed with the motifs below:

- The Insignia of the Malaysian Government
- The Logo of Universiti Utara Malaysia
- The National flower
- The University's name in calligraphy
- The Torch, symbolising scholarship

The second part is shaped like a bowl. Its surface is decorated with the form of rice grains that have just matured, to symbolise 'BUDI' or virtue. On top of the bowl, there are three feathers which symbolise the quill of knowledge. The bowl is adorned with sapphires reflecting the blue colour in the UUM logo.

The third part symbolises the staff of authority which is strong and is the basis of stability for the development of knowledge.

The fourth part, which is the end of the staff, has three blades of the Jawa Demam Kris arranged in a triangular shape. The tips of the blades are all pointed towards one direction and symbolise unity in facing a situation.

The fifth part is shaped like a hemisphere and is symbolic of the University's purpose. Its surface is adorned with Malay motifs.

29.0 TERMINATION OF STUDY

If students obtain an unsatisfactory academic report or have violated the Universities and University Colleges Act 1971 or other related acts, the Graduate School is given the authority and sanctioned recommend to the Senate to have their study terminated.

30.0 POWER OF SENATE

The Senate can make exceptions to any of the terms under these Rules.

EXAMINATION RULES
(From paragraph 12 of UUM [Examinations] 1988)

1.0 BEFORE THE EXAMINATION

1.1 Students are required to check the examination time table to ensure there are no discrepancies in terms of the time and place of the examination on courses registered. Any changes made to the timetable will be displayed on the Notice Board of the respective Schools/Graduate Schools. Under no circumstances will an oversight in reading the timetable be accepted as an excuse for not attending any of the examinations.

1.2 Students must be present in the Examination Hall at the exact time as stipulated in the time table. Extra time will not be given under any circumstances. All students must bring their identity card/passport, examination slip and smart card. Students who fail to bring their examination slip will not be allowed to sit for the examination.

1.3 Students are not allowed to bring in or take out books, papers, documents, photographs and printed materials from the Examination Hall, unless authorized by the Invigilator.

1.4 Students are allowed to bring stationery cases containing writing materials, pens, pencils, rulers and calculators to the Examination Hall.

1.5 Students are allowed to enter the Examination Hall fifteen (15) minutes before the scheduled examination time unless instructed by the Chief Invigilator. Students are not allowed to enter the Examination Hall thirty (30) minutes after the examination begins.

(Reminder: Students who are barred from sitting the examination will be given an 'X' Grade with a grade point of 0.00)

1.6 Students are free to choose any seats in the Examination Hall. Students are required to take their seats in a quiet and orderly manner.

2.0 DURING THE EXAMINATION

2.1 In the Examination Hall, students are required to:

a. fill the attendance slip and place it on the right hand corner of the table;

b. place their identity card/passports, examination slip and smart cards on the completed attendance slip. The Invigilators will collect and check the attendance slip. Students are reminded to take back their identity card/passport, examination slip and smart card after the said documents have been checked.

2.2 Students must write their matriculation number, identity card/passport number, date, course code/course description, lecturer's name and group (if any) on all answer scripts.

2.3 Students are not allowed to smoke in the Examination Hall.

2.4 Students are not allowed to communicate with each other during the examination. Students are advised to raise their hands should they need assistance from the Chief Invigilator or Invigilators.

2.5 An announcement will be made to indicate the end of the examination. Students must stop writing as soon as this announcement is made.

2.6 Students must tie their answer scripts together. Students are not allowed to leave the Examination Hall until all answer scripts have been collected by the Chief Invigilator/Invigilators.

2.7 Students are allowed to leave the Examination Hall half an hour after the Examination commences. However, students are not allowed to leave the Examination Hall fifteen (15) minutes before the examination ends.

2.8 Students who fall ill during the examination must inform the Chief Invigilator/Invigilators as soon as possible.

2.9 Students who are caught cheating, attempting to cheat or assisting someone else to cheat in the examination will be subjected to appropriate actions in accordance with the University Examination Rules.

3.0 STUDENTS WHO ARE UNABLE TO TAKE THE EXAMINATION

3.1 Students who are unable to sit for an examination on any of the courses registered must provide reasons in writing, by enclosing relevant supporting documents to the Dean of the respective Graduate School, before or within seven (7) days after the date of the scheduled examination. Failure to provide valid reasons for not attending the examination may result in the student getting F grade for the course. All enquiries regarding examination must be forwarded to the Dean of the respective Graduate School.

3.2 Students who fail to sit for all the scheduled examinations without valid reasons, accepted by the board of Examiners of the University or without prior approval of the Board will be deemed to have failed in the particular semester.

4.0 APPEAL ON EXAMINATION RESULTS

4.1 Students who wish to appeal against the result of the final examination, must submit their appeal in writing to the Dean of the respective Graduate School within two (2) weeks after the examination result has been announced. Any appeal received after the stipulated period will not be entertained.

4.2 Students must state the name of the course(s) for which the answer scripts are to be re-examined.

4.3 Students will be charged RM100.00 per course to be re-examined. Payment should be made to the Bursar's Department. The payment slip should be enclosed with the appeal letter.

4.4 The Dean of the respective Graduate School will set-up an appeal committee to re-examine the Paper to determine technical mistakes that exist in terms of addition of marks or any part of the answer not being marked or marks being given wrongly for any part of the answer.

4.5 The decision made by the Appeal Committee will be forwarded by the Dean to the University Senate for approval before the student concerned is informed about the result should there be a change in grade.

4.6 The decision made by the Senate is final.

5.0 REMINDER REGARDING ACADEMIC DISHONESTY

5.1 Interpretation of Academic Dishonesty:

a. Students who are caught cheating, attempting to cheat or assisting someone else to cheat in the examination.
b. Students who violate the Examination Regulations including plagiarism of thesis, dissertation, research Paper, Project Paper, assignments and others.
c. Students sitting for examinations or preparing assignments (Project Paper, thesis etc.) on behalf of other students.

5.2 Students who commit academic dishonesty will be brought upon the Academic Dishonesty Committee comprising:

a. Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic and International) or Assistant Vice-Chancellor of the College concerned acting as the Chairperson

Members

b. Two (2) academic staff of the respective School;
c. The Registrar or a representative (Secretary)

5.3 An inquiry will be held as soon as possible. If students are found guilty, one (1) of the following punishments will be imposed:

a. Fail with F grade will be given for the course associated with the case (the F grade is not redeemable); or
b. Fail with F grade will be given to all courses registered for during the said semester or some of the courses taken prior to the said semester (the F grade is not redeemable); or
c. Fail with F grade will be given to all courses associated with the case (the F grade is not redeemable); or
d. the case will be referred to the Student Disciplinary Committee.

5.4 Students who are caught plagiarising beyond reasonable doubt will have the valid certification of the thesis or dissertation released by the board of examiners annulled and the master's or doctoral qualification revoked with immediate effect.

5.5 If students are found guilty by the Student Disciplinary Committee, one (1) or more of the following punishments can be meted out:

a. a written warning will be issued and recorded on their academic record;
b. a fine of not exceeding RM 200.00;
c. exclusion from any specific part or parts of the University for a specified period;
d. suspension from being a student of the University for a specified period;
e. expulsion from the University.

5.6 The Vice-Chancellor can use his discretion where necessary to prevent students, who are found to have violated any of the regulations, from taking any examination or all the examinations, if he is satisfied and the evidence of prima facie exists regarding the said violation.

SECTION 5: ACADEMIC INFORMATION

UUM COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

INTRODUCTION

UUM College of Arts and Sciences (CAS) is a truly life-changing academic college. We have been providing higher education in this region since 1984 under the umbrella of Universiti Utara Malaysia and we are proud to be an innovative, accessible and inspirational academic college. With over 50 degree programmes at the undergraduate, graduate, postgraduate diploma and doctoral levels, including the doctor of management, there is something for everyone at UUM CAS.

UUM CAS offers a dynamic learning environment that inspires innovation, creativity and collaboration and is focused on candidate success. More than 450 distinguished scholars, researchers and expert teachers, with more than 60% holding PhDs or the highest degrees in their fields, make up the UUM CAS faculty.

With a diverse mix of expertise in the fields of Computing, Social Development, Multimedia Technology and Communication, Quantitative Sciences, Education and Modern Languages, as well as the General Studies, the UUM CAS aims to serve as a centre of excellence in the fields of arts and sciences, as well as to develop competent and committed human capital to drive forward the nation, and humanity, in tandem with the University's charter and philosophy.

Awang Had Salleh Graduate School of Arts and Sciences (AHSGS) is the graduate school responsible for managing programs under the UUM College of Arts and Sciences at the Sintok campus. AHSGS oversees programs across seven distinct schools:

1. School of Education
2. School of Computing
3. School of Applied Psychology, Social Work and Policy
4. School of Multimedia Technology and Communication
5. School of Creative Industry Management and Performing Arts
6. School of Quantitative Sciences
7. School of Languages, Civilisation and Philosophy

These schools collectively offer a wide range of academic disciplines, providing candidates with comprehensive educational opportunities within a diverse and enriching environment.

To meet the growing demand in the education sector, programs offered by the UUM College of Arts and Sciences are also available at the UUM Kuala Lumpur Campus. This expansion allows more candidates to access and benefit from the diverse range of programs provided by the college.

These programs are accredited by the Malaysia Qualifications Agency (MQA) and approved by the Ministry of Education, Malaysia, ensuring their quality and recognition nationally.

PRE-REQUISITE COURSES

Candidate without a qualification or working experience in the research field are required to attend the following pre-requisite courses with at least a B grade before proceeding with their programme:

i. STIDK1023 Aplikasi Komputer dalam Pengurusan
ii. STIDK1013 Sistem Maklumat dalam Organisasi

INTERNATIONAL CANDIDATE

International candidates are required to achieve the minimum score in at least one of the specified English language requirements, as stipulated in Section 4.0 of the Rules and Regulations, Sub-section 3.0: English Language Requirement.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

The Master of Science (Information and Communication Technology) by coursework comprises a total of 41 credit hours, with the following programme structure:

Core Courses (24 credit hours)
STIA5014 Principles and Techniques in Programming
STID5024 Database Application Development
STIJ5024 Internet Technology
STIK5014 Computer Systems and Networks
STIW5034 Information System Development
STIQ6014 Research Methodology in Computing

Elective Courses (8 credit hours)
Choose two (2) courses from the following list:

STID6014 IT Policy and Strategy
STID6034 E-Government & Managing ICT in Public Sector
STID6054 Seminar in Information Technology
STIJ6024 Information Security
STIJ6034 Network Management
STIJ6044 Mobile Internet Programming
STIJ6084 Forensic Computing
STIN6054 Web-based Intelligent System
STIN6064 Natural Language Computing
STIW6084 Interaction Design
STIW6014 Requirements Engineering
STIW6054 Usability Engineering

Project Paper (9 credit hours)
STIZ6999 Project in Computing

MASTER OF SCIENCE (INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY)

SPECIFIC ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Candidate for Master of Science (Information Technology) by Coursework / Coursework and Dissertation must possess:

a) A bachelor's degree with honours related to Computing or Science and Technology from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of at least 2.75; or

b) A bachelor's degree with honours related to Computing or Science and Technology from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of 2.00 – 2.74 and relevant work experience.

Candidate for Master of Science (Information Technology) by Research must possess:

a) A bachelor's degree with honours related to Computing or Science and Technology from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of at least 3.00; or

b) A bachelor's degree with honours related to Computing or Science and Technology from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of 2.00 – 2.99 and relevant work experience.

SPECIFIC ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Candidate for Master of Science (Intelligent System) by Coursework and Dissertation must possess:

a) A bachelor's degree with honours related to Computing or Science and Technology from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of at least 2.75; or

b) A bachelor's degree with honours related to Computing or Science and Technology from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of 2.00 – 2.74 and relevant work experience.

Candidate for Master of Science (Intelligent System) by Research must possess:

a) A bachelor's degree with honours related to Computing or Science and Technology from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of at least 3.00; or

b) A bachelor's degree with honours related to Computing or Science and Technology from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of 2.00 – 2.99 and relevant work experience.

PRE-REQUISITE COURSES

Candidate without a qualification or working experience in the research field are required to attend the following pre-requisite courses with at least a B grade before proceeding with their programme:

i. STIA5014 Principles and Techniques in Programming
ii. STIN5014 Artificial Intelligence

INTERNATIONAL CANDIDATE

International candidates are required to achieve the minimum score in at least one of the specified English language requirements, as stipulated in Section 4.0 of the Rules and Regulations, Sub-section 3.0: English Language Requirement.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

The programme is offered in two (2) structures; coursework and dissertation and full research.

A. COURSEWORK AND DISSERTATION

The Master of Science (Intelligent System) by coursework and dissertation comprises a total of 40 credit hours, with the following programme structure:

Core Courses (16 credit hours)
STIN5014 Artificial Intelligence
STIN5024 Data Mining
STIN5034 Neural Networks
SZRZ6014 Research Methodology

Elective Courses (4 credit hours)
Choose one (1) course from the following list:

STIN6014 Artificial Intelligence Programming Language
STIN6024 Expert System
STIN6034 Intelligent Agent Development
STIN6044 Intelligent Database
STIN6054 Web-based Intelligent Systems
STIN6064 Natural Language Computing
STIN6074 Fuzzy Logic
STIN6084 Generic Algorithm
STIN6094 Swarm Computing

Dissertation (20 credit hours)

STIZ69920 Dissertation

Candidate is also required to:

i. Present and successfully defend their research proposal;
ii. Present and successfully defend their dissertation in a viva voce session;
iii. Submit a written dissertation after viva voce session in accordance with the enforced guidelines

B. RESEARCH

Candidate is required to do the following:

1) Candidate is required to register and pass the following two (2) compulsory courses with at least a B grade before they continue with their research:

   i. SZRZ6014 Research Methodology
   ii. SCLE6014 Academic Writing

   Candidate without sufficient research skills and knowledge are required to attend any other courses as determined by the supervisor or academic committee and pass with at least a B grade before they continue with their research.

2) Candidate is also required to:

   i. Present their research work at colloquiums/symposiums set by the respective Schools;
   ii. Present and successfully defend their research proposal, as per requirement below:
      a) Candidate is required to defend their proposals to a committee comprising a chairperson and two (2) reviewers appointed by respective Schools.
      b) The research proposals should comprise the following chapters:
         - Chapter 1: Background of the Study, Problem Statement, Research Questions, Research Objectives, Scope of the Study, and Significance of the Study.
         - Chapter 2: Literature Review
         - Chapter 3: Research Methodology, Research Framework, Hypotheses/ Propositions Development
      c) Candidate must submit two (2) copies of their proposals to respective Schools at least two (2) weeks prior to the defence.
      d) The reviewers would provide written comments and recommend the status of the research proposals at the end of the defence session.
      e) Candidate is required to make amendments based on the comments and suggestions given by the reviewers.
      f) In case of re-defence, candidate is given a maximum of six (6) months to refine and to successfully re-defend their research proposals. Failure to do so would result in termination from the programme.
   iii. Present and successfully defend their thesis in a viva voce session;
      a) Upon approval from their supervisor(s), candidate should fill the form "Intent to Submit Graduate Thesis/Dissertation" and submit it to respective Graduate Schools
      b) Candidate will be informed of the viva voce session by respective Graduate Schools
   iv. Submit a written thesis after viva voce session in accordance with the enforced guidelines.
      a) Candidate should make corrections with guidance from the supervisor(s) based on comments and suggestions given by the examiners during the viva voce session.
      b) Before binding the final thesis, candidate should obtain approval (or signature) from the respective Graduate Schools for certification of the thesis.
      c) The final thesis should be prepared and submitted as per stipulated by the respective Graduate Schools.

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN CYBERSECURITY

SPECIFIC ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

a) A bachelor's degree with Honours related to Computing or Science and Technology from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of at least 2.75; or

b) A bachelor's degree with Honours related to Computing or Science and Technology from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of 2.00 – 2.74 and relevant work experience; or

c) A bachelor's degree with Honours from Universiti Utara Malaysia or any other institutions of higher learning recognised by the University Senate with a CGPA of at least 2.75 and THREE (3) years' work experience in the computing-related field.

PRE-REQUISITE COURSES

Candidate without a qualification or working experience in the research field are required to attend the following pre-requisite courses with at least a B grade before proceeding with their programme:

i. STIA5014 Principles and Techniques in Programming
ii. STIW5034 Information System Development

INTERNATIONAL CANDIDATE

International candidates are required to achieve the minimum score in at least one of the specified English language requirements, as stipulated in Section 4.0 of the Rules and Regulations, Sub-section 3.0: English Language Requirement.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

The Master of Science in Cybersecurity by coursework comprises a total of 40 credit hours, with the following programme structure:

Core Courses (22 credit hours)
STIC5003 Information Security Management
STIC5013 Cybersecurity Governance, Risk & Compliance
STIC5023 Data and Network Security
STIC5033 Information Assurance
STIC5043 Sentiment & Social Media Management
STIC5053 Cybersecurity Analytics
SZRZ6014 Research Methodology

Elective Courses (9 credit hours)
Choose three (3) courses from the following list:

STIC5063 Online Business, Financial Technology & Cybersecurity
STIC6003 Hacking and Penetration Tests
STIC6013 Data Fitting and Analysis
STIC6023 Cybersecurity in Social Media
STIC6033 Cyber Psychology
STIC6043 Ethics, Policy & Cybersecurity Law

Project Paper (9 credit hours)
STIC6999 Project Paper

Note:
 Courses embedded with professional certifications by CyberSecurity Malaysia*

Certified Information Security Awareness Manager (CISAM)
Certified Information Security Management System ISO/IEC27001:2013 - Auditor (CISMS)

MASTER OF SCIENCE IN GEOINFORMATICS FOR DISASTER RISK REDUCTION

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

The Master of Science in Geoinformatics for Disaster Risk Reduction by coursework comprises a total of 42 credit hours, with the following programme structure:

Core Courses (24 credit hours)
STIG5003 Natural Hazards and Risks
STIG5013 Fundamental of GIS and Remote Sensing
STIG5023 Extraction and Analysis of Geospatial Data
STIG5033 Geo Information Imagery for Disaster Relief and Recovery
STIG5053 Natural Hazards, Exposure and Risk Mapping
STIG5063 Geoinformation for Risk and Vulnerability Assessment
STIG5073 Natural Hazards Modelling
STIG5083 Research Methodology

Elective Courses (9 credit hours)
Choose three (3) courses from the following list:

STIG6003 Geodatabase and Web Based GIS Application
STIG6013 Geo-information Science Applications
STIG6023 Disaster Risk Reduction: Prevention, Impact Mitigation and Preparedness
STIG6033 Geo-spatial Analysis of Multi-hazard Risk
STIG6043 Building Resilient Communities Based on Geo-information: Case Study

UUM COLLEGE OF LAW, GOVERNMENT AND INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

INTRODUCTION

UUM College of Law, Government and International Studies (COLGIS) is a place for people who strive to make a difference in the world; who are fascinated by the power of government and its influence on policy reforms, who pursue the legal profession's service to society, who want to explore events unfolding around the world, and who aspire to become involved in hospitality and environmental issues. Our full-time faculty members bring to the college a depth and range of experience unmatched by any other institutions, and offer various courses at the undergraduate and postgraduate level.

Established in 2008, UUM COLGIS continues its great tradition in its commitment to critical analysis – of government, law, international affairs and business, development studies, and tourism and hospitality. Curricular innovations continue to take place to keep pace with rapidly evolving political, legal, economic, and technological developments. UUM COLGIS is deepening advanced programmes of study in public management, law, international affairs, international business, and urban planning; cross-university initiatives including joint degree programmes; and study abroad opportunities.

Our alumni include leaders in all branches and all level of government, in academia, in media, in for-profit companies and nonprofit organisations domestically and around the globe. The alumni networks in every region of the world serve as an invaluable resource in mentoring candidates and offering networks of colleagueship and friendship among graduates.

Ghazali Shafie Graduate School of Government (GSGSG) is the graduate school responsible for managing programs under the UUM College of Law, Government and International Studies. GSGSG oversees programs across four distinct schools:

1. School of Law
2. School of International Studies
3. School of Government
4. School of Tourism, Hospitality and Event Management

These schools collectively offer a wide range of academic disciplines, providing candidates with comprehensive educational opportunities within a diverse and enriching environment.

To meet the growing demand in the education sector, programs offered by the College of Law, Government and International Studies are also available at the UUM Kuala Lumpur Campus. This expansion allows more candidates to access and benefit from the diverse range of programs provided by the college.

These programs are accredited by Malaysia Qualifications Agency (MQA) and approved by the Ministry of Higher Education, Malaysia.

SECTION 7: UUM CODE OF ETHICS FOR STUDENT RESEARCH AND ACADEMIC WRITING

PART I: PRINCIPLES AND PRACTICES IN RESPONSIBLE RESEARCH

1. Interpretation

In this Code, unless the context otherwise requires

Academic review means impartial and independent assessment of research by others working in the same or a related field.

Authorship means rights that belong to the creator of an original work including literary, musical and artistic works, films, sound recordings, and broadcasts.

Code means UUM Code of Ethics for Student Research and Academic Writing.

Collaborative research means collaboration within and between institutions both domestically and internationally.

Conflict of interest means the existence of a divergence between the individual interest of a person and his professional responsibilities.

Plagiarism means using the works of others and communicating as if they are the student's own work. Plagiarism is one form of intellectual theft and it can come in many ways, including deliberate fraud or taking from other sources without due acknowledgment of the original author.

Policy means the Plagiarism Policy as used in UUM Code of Ethics for Student Research and Academic Writing.

Research means original investigation undertaken to gain knowledge, understanding and insight in pursuit of obtaining degrees offered by the university.

Research misconduct means any conduct which includes fabrication, manipulation, plagiarism, deception in proposing and carrying out or reporting the results of the research, and failure to declare or manage a serious conflict of interest. It includes avoidable failure to follow research proposals as approved by the research ethics committee, particularly where this failure may result in unreasonable risk or harm to humans, animals or the environment. It also includes the wilful concealment or facilitation of research misconduct by others.

Risk of harm caused by plagiarism includes discredit to authors, negating the value of work, giving rise to the launching of an internal disciplinary procedure, and if proven may lead to the revocation of the degree and may disgrace the university.

Student is a person who has registered for an academic programme at this University.

Supervisor is a person appointed to supervise a student's thesis/dissertation/ research Paper/Project Paper.

University means Universiti Utara Malaysia

2. General Principles of Responsible Research

(1) Responsible research is encouraged and guided by the research culture of the university. A strong research culture will demonstrate:

i. honesty and integrity;

ii. respect for human research participants, animals and the environment;

iii. good stewardship of public resources used to conduct the research;

iv. appropriate acknowledgement of the role of others in research;

v. responsible communication of results; and

vi. compliance with relevant laws.

(2) The responsibilities of the University in encouraging responsible research conduct are:

(i) in promoting responsible conduct of research, the university is expected to:

(a) promote awareness of all legislations, guidelines, codes, handbooks and policies related to conducting of the research;

(b) provide documents setting out clearly the policies and procedures based on this Code;

(c) actively encourage mutual cooperation with open exchanges of ideas between peers, and respect freedom of expression and inquiry; and

(d) maintain a climate in which responsible and ethical behavior is practised.

(ii) The university should inspire students to employ ethical conduct in producing good quality research by complying to this code in minimizing the risk of harm for all involved and enhancing the reputation of the institution.

(iii) The university should provide research induction, formal training and continuing education for all staff, supervisors and students.

(3) Responsibilities of students towards responsible research conduct, include:

(i) Maintaining high standards of responsible research.

Students must foster and maintain a research environment of intellectual honesty, integrity, scholarly and scientific rigour. Students should maintain responsible conduct by:

(a) respecting the truth and the rights of those affected by their research;

(b) managing conflicts of interest so that ambition and personal advantage do not compromise ethical or scholarly considerations;

(c) adopting methods appropriate for achieving the aims of each research proposal;

(d) abiding proper practices for safety and security;

(e) citing awards, degrees conferred and research publications accurately, including the status of any publication, such as under review or in press;

(f) abiding the principles of this Code and avoiding departures from the responsible conduct of research; and

(g) conforming to the policies adopted by the university and bodies funding the research.

(ii) Reporting research responsibly

(Refer to the Plagiarism Policy in Part III).

(iii) Ethical Conduct of research participants

Students must comply with ethical principles of integrity, of justice, of beneficence, respect research participant, and must obtained written approval from the Ethics Committees and relevant parties.

(a) Humans

All research projects involving human and human specimens should ensure a balance between the need for research on human beings and human dignity. These should include the following:

i. respecting human dignity, individuality and confidentiality;

ii. getting the permission or consent in writing;

iii. minimizing harm and maximizing benefits;

iv. protecting vulnerable individuals who need extra protection;

v. subjecting to review and approval of the appropriate or respective Ethics Committee or body recognized by the university; and

vi. subjecting to Malaysian laws.

(b) Animals

All research projects that use animals and animal specimens shall ensure that the balance between the need to undertake research and respecting the dignity of animals is maintained. All researchers therefore must:

i. respect animal welfare by minimizing hunger and thirst pangs, pain and injury, fear and suffering and allow the animals to show their natural behaviour;

ii. minimize the number of animals used for research and replace the animals (if possible) with other alternatives;

iii. ensure their research is subjected to be reviewed and approved by the appropriate or respective Ethics Committee or body recognized by the university.

(c) Environment

Students should conduct their research so as to minimize adverse effects on the wider community and the environment.

(iv) Reporting research misconduct

A student who considers that research misconduct may have occurred must act in a timely manner, with regard to this Code.

3. Management of Research Data

(1) Responsible conduct of research includes the proper management and retention of the research data. The central aim is that sufficient data are retained to justify the outcome of the research and to defend its integrity when challenged. The potential value of the material for further research should also be considered, particularly where the research would be difficult to conduct or impossible to be repeated.

(2) Responsibility of UUM schools

The university should:

(i) have a comprehensive policy to guide students in the management and usage of research data, including storage, access, ownership and confidentiality;

(ii) provide secure research data storage and record-keeping facilities;

(iii) ensure the security and proper inventory of the relevant research data and materials as well as the place of storage;

(a) the process should ensure that students are informed of relevant confidentiality agreements and restrictions on the use of research data;

(b) computing systems should be secure, and information technology personnel should understand their responsibilities for network security and access control;

(c) holders of primary data, including electronic forms, should be responsible for their security and access.

(3) Responsibility of students as researchers

They must:

(i) take account of professional standards, legal requirements and contractual arrangements in managing and maintaining research data;

(ii) make data available for use by other researchers unless this is prevented by ethical, intellectual property, privacy or confidentiality matters;

(iii) retain all relevant data so that if the results of the research are challenged, the matter can be resolved. Research records that may be relevant to allegations of research misconduct must not be destroyed;

(iv) manage research data in accordance with the policy of the university. To achieve this, students should:

(a) keep clear and accurate records of the research methods and data sources, including any approval granted, during and after the research process;

(b) ensure the security of the research data in the course of undertaking research;

(c) provide the same level of care and protection to primary research records, such as laboratory notebooks, similar to the case accorded to analysed research data;

(d) retain research data, including electronic data, in a durable, indexed and retrievable as prescribed in the Limitation Act 1953;

(e) maintain catalogues of research data in an accessible form;

(f) manage research data according to ethical protocols and relevant legislation.

(v) Students, who have been authorised to access confidential information must maintain its confidentiality. Confidential information must only be used in ways agreeable to those who provide it. Particular care must be exercised when confidential data are made available for discussion.

4. Responsible Research, Publication and Dissemination of Findings

(1) Responsible research writing, publication and dissemination of research findings are important parts of the research process.

(2) Responsibility of the university

The university should implement the following activities:

(i) promote responsible research, publication and dissemination of findings by promoting an environment of honesty, integrity, accuracy and responsibility;

(ii) inform all relevant parties to the research of the nature and scope of confidentiality agreements;

(iii) maintain a policy that protects the intellectual property rights of the institution, the students, and the sponsors;

(iv) encourage the sponsors of research to utilize the research findings;

(v) assist the dissemination of research findings to the wider public.

(3) Responsibility of students

The students should:

(i) disseminate their research as broadly as possible;

(ii) comply with any relevant laws relating to intellectual property, cultured values and historically sensitive data;

(iii) take reasonable actions to ensure that their findings are accurate and properly reported. Any misleading or inaccurate statements about research findings must be corrected as soon as possible;

(iv) avoid publishing similar works in several publications. An author whose work is submitted substantially similar to work previously published or otherwise to more than one publishers, should disclose it at the time of submission and obtain permission from the previous publisher;

(v) acknowledge the sponsor for funding sources of the research;

(vi) register clinical trials with recognized registered bodies; and

(vii) inform the university of the requirements, conditions and restrictions to communicate their research findings to the audience.

5. Academic Review

(1) An academic review provides expert scrutiny of a project, helps to maintain high standards and encourages accurate, thorough and credible research reporting.

(2) An academic review is important in the detection of fabrication and fraud in research. However, on its own, it cannot ensure research integrity.

(3) Responsibility of the university

(i) The university should recognize the importance of the academic review process and encourage and support researchers to participate in the peer review process.

(ii) Members involved in the academic review should take the following action:

(a) act fairly and timely in their review;

(b) act in confidence and not disclose the content or outcome of any process in which they are involved;

(c) avoid and declare all conflicts of interest in the review process;

(d) do not take undue or calculated advantage of knowledge obtained during the review process;

(e) ensure that they are informed about, and comply with, the criteria to be applied;

(f) do not agree to participate in any review process outside their area of expertise;

(g) give proper consideration to research that challenges or changes accepted ways of thinking.

(4) Responsibility of the students

(i) Do not influence the process or outcome of the academic review.

(ii) Respect the confidentiality and independence of the academic review panel.

(iii) Attend the review session and present their research contributions.

6. Authorship

(1) Attribution of authorship depends to some extent on the discipline, but in all cases, authorship must be based on substantial contributions in a combination of:

(i) the conception and design of the project;

(ii) the analysis and interpretation of the research data;

(iii) drafting significant parts of the work or critically revising it so as to contribute to the interpretation.

(2) A person who qualifies as an author must not be included or excluded as an author without their permission. This should be in writing, and include a brief description of their contributions to the work.

(3) The editor of a significant collective work or anthology has responsibilities analogous to those listed above for authorship and, in such cases criteria that apply “author” apply to “editor”.

(4) Responsibility of the students

(i) Collaborating students should agree on the authorship of a publication at an early stage in the research project and should review their decisions periodically.

(ii) Publication of joint research must offer authorship to all contributors.

(iii) Authorship should not be offered to those who do not contribute to the research. For example, none of the following contributions, in and of themselves, justifies the inclusion of a person as an author:

(a) being head of department, holding other positions of authority, or being a personal friend of the authors;

(b) providing a formatting/proofread contribution but no other intellectual input to the project or publication;

(c) providing data that has already been published or materials obtained from third parties, but with no other intellectual input.

(iv) Students must ensure that all those who have contributed to the research, facilities or materials are properly acknowledged, such as research assistants and technical writers.

(v) Authors should take the responsibility for the publication’s content and must be clearly identified in the publication.

7. Conflict of Interest

(1) The university and the students should avoid conflict of interest in application and interpretation of the research data.

(2) Conflict of interest has the potential to compromise judgments and decisions that should be made impartially. Such compromise could determine public trust and confidence in research work.

(3) Responsibility of the university

The university's policy for managing conflict of interest should:

(i) ensure that the policy is clearly written and readily available to all stakeholders;

(ii) encourage full disclosure of circumstances giving rise to the conflict of interest;

(iii) ensure the party in conflict not to participate in the decision-making processes;

(iv) take minutes and record the proceedings of the conflict of interest; and

(iv) ensure that there is a policy for managing conflict of interest that arise in collaborative research.

(4) Responsibility of the students

(i) Students are responsible for the following:

(a) read and understand the policies of the UUM Schools;

(b) maintain records of all relevant activities that may lead to conflict of interest in their research;

(c) report to the university or withdraw if the students are appointed as members of a university committee or its equivalent, that should raise conflicts of interest; and

(d) disclose any actual or apparent conflict of interest as soon as it becomes apparent.

8. Collaborative Research Across Institutions

(1) The university and the students should comply with the policy concerning collaborative research.

(2) Responsibility of the university

The university should initiate the following measures:

(i) enter into an agreement with the partner(s) on the management of the research.

(ii) ensure that the agreement is in writing covering the issue of intellectual property, confidentiality, sharing commercial returns, responsibility for ethics, safety and reporting to appropriate agencies.

(iii) the agreement may be signed by the Vice-Chancellor, or any authorized person, and all parties.

(iv) ensure that researchers and students are aware of, and understand, the policy and agreements governing joint research collaboration.

(v) identify a person to be involved in the management of research data and other items to be retained at the end of the project from the collaborating parties.

(3) Responsibility of the students

Students should observe the following:

(i) Comply with all policies and written agreements related to the project.

(ii) Disclose to the university authorities as soon as possible any actual or apparent conflict of interest related to any aspect of the project.

PART II: RESEARCH MISCONDUCT

9. General

(1) Principles relating to research misconduct contained in this part are intended to ensure the findings of fact, if any, on the alleged research misconduct that has occurred.

(2) Affected parties must be treated fairly and the situation remedied, and appropriate steps taken to maintain public confidence in the research endeavour.

(3) Responsibility of the university

The university should observe the following:

(i) the university should have a written policy on receiving complaints or allegations related to student research;

(ii) when a complaint is lodged against a student, the university may respond by taking any of the following steps:

(a) a discreet investigation;

(b) a formal inquiry;

(c) imposition of a sanction or penalty;

(d) actions to remedy the situation; and

(e) seek advice from expert groups and release appropriate public statements.

(iii) a student who is the subject of an allegation must be treated fairly and be provided with opportunities to respond to the allegations in writing.

(iv) the university should establish a Student Research Misconduct Committee (SRMC).

(v) the functions of SRMC are as follows:

(a) deal with student research ethical issues including carrying out investigations or assessment of the student research misconduct allegation;

(b) advise any staff member on the research misconduct issue;

(c) advise students who have been alleged of research misconduct.

(vi) SRMC should consist of experienced and knowledgeable people appointed by the respective UUM School Deans. The committee should comprise of:

(a) a Chairman (Dean or any authorised person);

(b) two (2) representatives from the field of expertise on the matter in dispute from the respective school;

(c) one (1) representative from any UUM staff who has qualifications in law;

(d) one (1) representative from another school; and

(e) the Assistant Registrar of the school concerned as the secretary.

(vii) a member of SRMC must not participate in dealing with any case if he or she has a conflict of interest.

(viii) the duties of SRMC are as follows:

(a) investigate the alleged misconduct;

(b) refer the matter directly to the parties regarding the allegation that has been made;

(c) to ensure procedural fairness, the allegations of research misconduct must be stated clearly in writing; the person facing the allegations has the right to be heard, and the members of SRMC must be free from bias or preconception;

(d) provide its findings, and the reasons for those findings, in writing to the Deans of the Schools who should then communicate the findings to the accused;

(e) recommend to the university appropriate resolutions, penalties, punishments or decisions (the findings) regarding any student research misconduct upon the completion of the investigation and assessment; and

(f) carry out any other duties that are deemed relevant.

10. Process and Procedures of Research Misconduct

(1) The university and the students must comply with proper procedures in the investigation of research misconduct.

(2) Complaint and allegation

(i) The university should inform its staff and students on the procedure of lodging a complaint or allegation of any research misconduct.

(ii) The process and procedure of research misconduct is shown in Appendix I.

(3) Person responsible for resolving the complaint or allegation of research misconduct. Officers responsible for resolving the complaint or allegation of research misconduct include:

(i) the Vice-Chancellor or any authorised person;

(ii) the Dean of the School;

(iii) SMRC (the members who are appointed by the respective Dean of the School;

(iv) the relevant head of department or research centre;

(v) supervisor(s); or

(vi) other parties who are deemed relevant to be called upon or are responsible to handle the allegation as considered fit by the Dean of the School.

PART III: PLAGIARISM POLICY

11. Introduction

(1) Most academic work submitted for assessment by students at both the undergraduate and postgraduate levels will be evaluated based on their written work, which often contains information and ideas put forward by other writers. In this case, the contribution of the original writing may be seen from the selection, ordering, citations, summarizing and interpreting what others have said.

(2) Each time a writer uses the works or ideas of others she/he must acknowledge the source. It is important for students to make clear and precise reference to the works of others and learn how to cite them. In so doing, the contribution made by the original authors will be duly recognized and appreciated.

12. Acknowledgement and citation of sources

(1) Students must acknowledge and cite sources in the following situations:

(i) when copying the exact words of another person's works;
(ii) when rewriting, paraphrasing or summarizing information from other sources;
(iii) when introducing facts that they found in any other source;
(iv) when obtaining information from any third parties;
(v) when introducing information that is not common knowledge; and
(vi) when producing or modifying any diagram, illustration, chart, picture or other visual materials created by others.

13. Acknowledgement and citation

(1) Students need not acknowledge and cite sources in the following situations:

(i) when writing own experiences, whether based on own observations, opinions, thoughts, or making own conclusions;
(ii) when writing results obtained through laboratory work, field experiments, artwork, etc;
(iii) when it is a general knowledge that is widely accepted;
(iv) when it is public information such as historical dates or historical events; and
(v) when using information that is considered as established fact that has been confirmed in many sources.

14. Common types of plagiarism

(1) There are several types of plagiarism which include the following:

(i) Copying directly from original sources without acknowledgement.
Plagiarism often involves using one or more sentences or parts of sentences that are copied directly from an original source (with or without footnotes). These measures cannot be accepted. Copying from any text requires the insertion of quotes in phrases. Longer passages should be offset in indented blocks of a paragraph.

(ii) Copying directly from original sources by placing footnotes/citations.
Copying nearly all or a part of the work of others is considered to be plagiarism. However, copying a few sentences or passages from various documents by placing footnotes/quotations at the end of each sentence or paragraph is still regarded as having elements of plagiarism. In the obvious case, none of the words in the passage used belong to the author.

(iii) Submission of work done by others
Copying something written by any other person and then submitting that as own work is considered plagiarizing. This action can easily be detected and proved. Authors can work with others to complete certain tasks (any form of written assignment, thesis, essay, report, tutorial exercise, reflection Paper, written review, rejoinder or commentary, etc.) but what is submitted must be their own work.

(iv) Failure to cite sources or references
Each time a new fact which is the result of the work done by another person is obtained, sources or references must be provided. Ideally, it should be a reference to the primary literature especially when it comes from a scientific journal or a book.

15. Dissemination of information on the UUM Code of Ethics for Student Research and Academic Writing

The university is responsible to disseminate information of the UUM Code of Ethics for Student Research and Academic Writing to the UUM staff and the students.

16. Procedures for bringing charges of academic dishonesty

(1) Any member of the university community may bring a charge against a student for an alleged act of academic misconduct by using the procedures of this policy.

(2) Allegations of academic misconduct shall be submitted in writing by the complainant to the Dean of the School using Form A (Complaint Form). The Dean of the School will then submit the form together with a copy of all the relevant information and evidence to the respective Deputy Vice-Chancellor.

(3) The Respective Deputy Vice-Chancellor will set up the Academic Dishonesty Committee (ADC) which comprises of

(i) the respective Deputy Vice-Chancellor or any authorised person acting as the chairperson;
(ii) two (2) full-time academic staff from the school concerned other than the staff who conducted or involved in the investigation process; and
(iii) the Assistant Registrar of the Department of Academic Affairs as the secretary.

(4) The Chairman of the ADC shall read the charge and ask the respondent to reply to the allegation(s) contained in the complaint. If the respondent is absent or refuses to answer, it shall be presumed that the respondent denies the allegation(s) made.

(5) The Chairman shall call upon all parties to present any further information relevant to the case, summarizing the evidence and/or arguments against the suspect.

(6) If the student admits to the academic misconduct charge, the judgment of academic dishonesty by the respective college shall be in writing and shall be followed by an appropriate punishment.

(7) The Academic Dishonesty Committee shall make appropriate recommendations and issue an appropriate penalty. If a student is found guilty, one (1) of the following punishments will be imposed:

(i) F grades will be given to all courses registered for during the said semester or some of the courses taken prior to the said semester; or
(ii) F grades will be given to all courses associated with the case; or
(iii) a written warning will be issued to the student to rectify the plagiarised work within a reasonable time;
(iv) the thesis or dissertation will be considered as a failure if the student failed to comply with the written warning; or
(v) the case will be referred to the Student Disciplinary Committee.

(8) Students who are caught plagiarizing, beyond reasonable doubt, will have the valid certification of the thesis or dissertation released by the Board of Examiners annulled and the Master or PhD qualification be revoked with immediate effect.

17. The Student Disciplinary Committee

(1) If a student denies the allegation of academic misconduct, the ADC will forward the charge to the Student Disciplinary Committee (SDC), chaired by the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Student Affairs and Alumni) for further action. The ADC must, in writing, submit the charge to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Student Affairs and Alumni) with all the evidence and relevant documentation.

(2) The student can continue to attend classes and consultations during the investigation period or when the charge is still pending.

(3) If the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Student Affairs and Alumni) determines that a review is justified, then the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Student Affairs and Alumni) or an authorized person in charge shall immediately establish and convene a SDC meeting. The SDC comprises of:

(i) the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Student Affairs and Alumni) as the chairman;
(ii) the Dean of the Student Development and Alumni or any authorised person;
(iii) the Director of the Department of Student Affairs and Alumni;

(iv) the Director of the Department of Academic Affairs;
(v) the university Legal Advisor or any authorised person; and
(vi) the Assistant Registrar of the Department of Student Affairs and Alumni as the secretary

(4) The complainant staff member shall not be involved in the decision making process.

(5) The SDC shall review the facts involved in the incident and make recommendations to the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Student Affairs and Alumni) or the authorised person in charge. The Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Student Affairs and Alumni) shall then announce the results and if the student is found guilty, the SDC can impose any one or more of the following penalties:

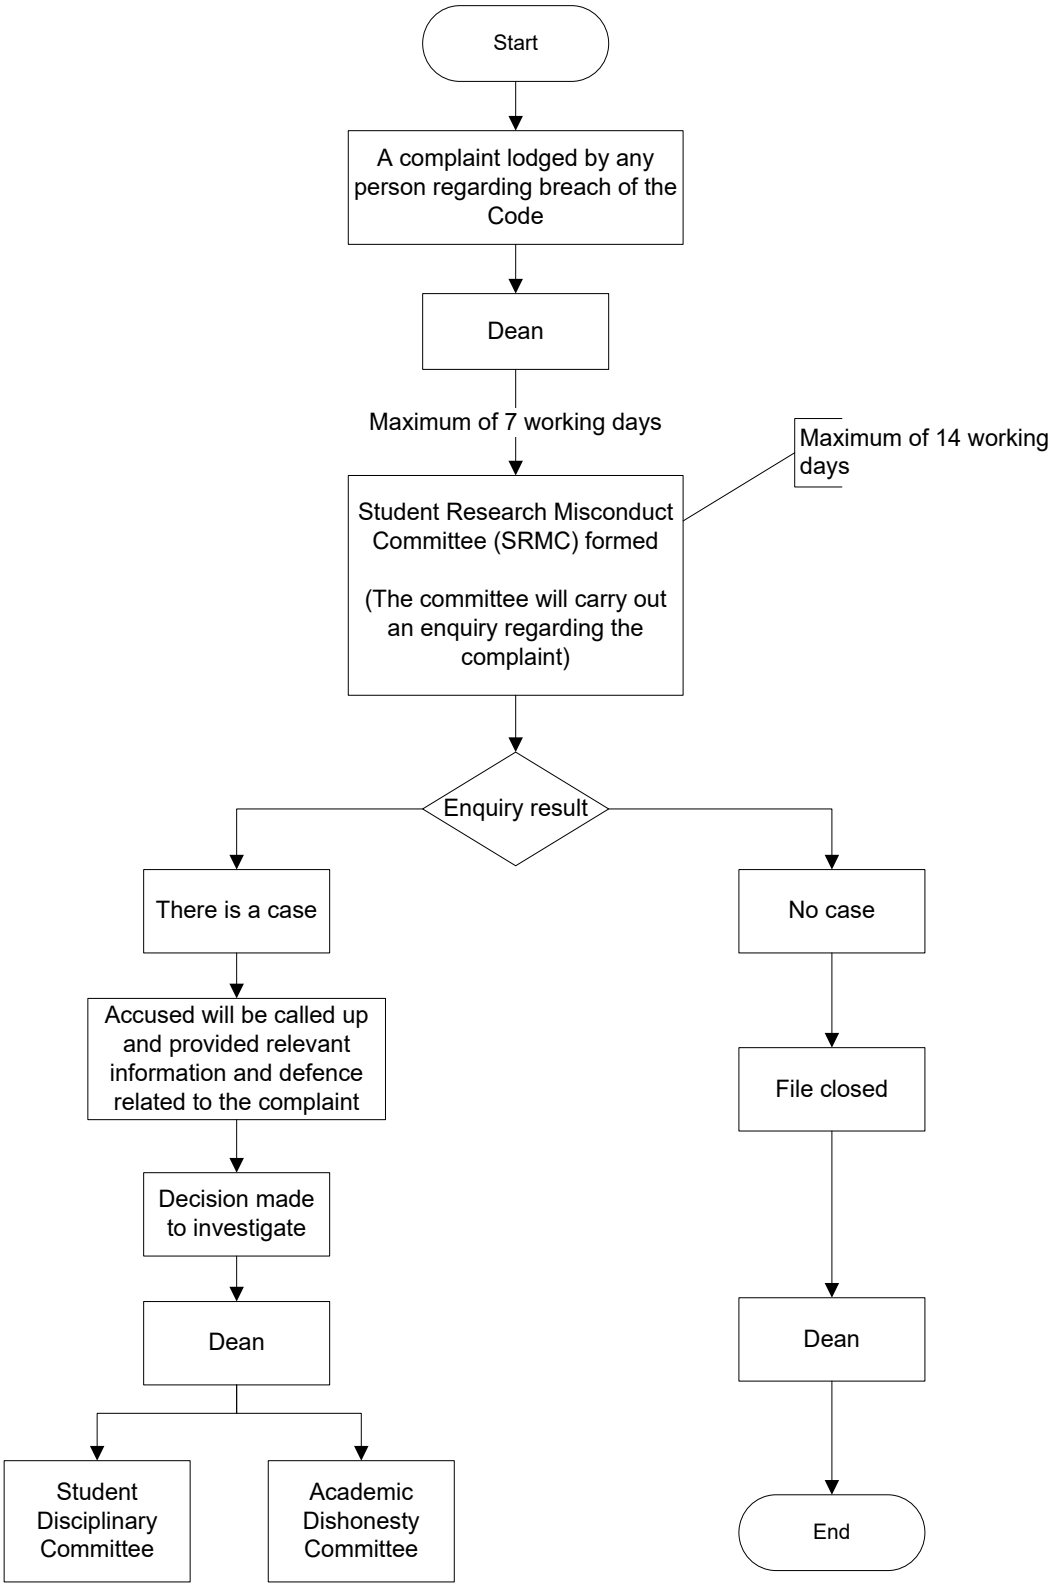

(i) a written warning will be issued and recorded in the student's academic record;
(ii) a fine not exceeding RM200.00;
(iii) exclusion from any specific part or parts of the university for a specified period;
(iv) suspension from being a student of the university for a specified period; and
(v) expulsion from the university.

(6) Students who are caught plagiarizing beyond reasonable doubt will have the valid certification of the thesis or dissertation released by the Board of Examiners annulled and the degree revoked with immediate effect.

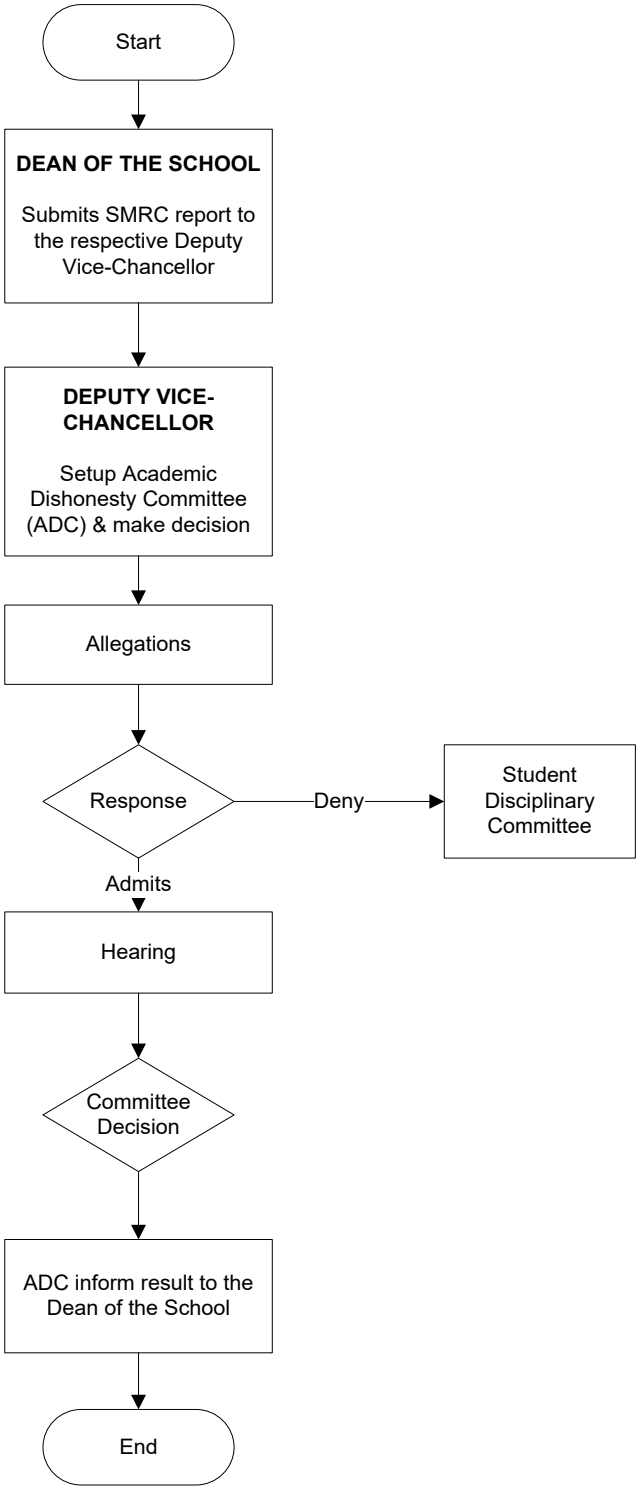

(7) The Vice-Chancellor can use his discretion where necessary to prevent students, who are found to have violated any of the regulations from taking any part of the examination or the examination if he is satisfied and the evidence of prima facie exists regarding the said violation.

(8) The process and procedures in bringing charges of academic dishonesty cases is provided in Appendix II.
